Dear Faculty Jury,

Over the past three years, my journey at The University of Indianapolis studying Communication with a concentration in Electronic Media has been transformative. Alongside my academic pursuits, my involvement on the track team has played a pivotal role in shaping my character, fostering determination, honing multitasking abilities, and introducing me to lifelong friends.

My experiences within UIndy TV have been instrumental in developing a diverse skill set encompassing editing, filming, game commentary, and graphic design. Additionally, my involvement in Top Dog Communication has deepened my understanding of non-profit organizations, offering real-world exposure to Public Relations practices, including thorough meetings, event planning, SWOT analysis, PR campaign development, and tactical implementation. Further enhancing my communication skills, I embarked on a spring term in Italy with the communication department, enriching my cultural understanding and refining my interpersonal skills.

Within the senior project tab of my website, you'll discover a broad portfolio showcasing my finest work. Additionally, exploring other parts of my website will reveal more skills and achievements.

I sincerely appreciate your guidance and support throughout my educational and professional journey, and I eagerly welcome any feedback you may have.

Thank you for your invaluable contribution to my growth and development.

Sincerely,

Hallie Montgomery
